

Summer 2007: Just as the last bands were being booked and we were about to launch the 4-day spectacle that is Sweden Rock Festival, a CD arrived in the mail...

BONAFIDE both charmed and knocked us of our feet with their simple, powerful and well played rock'n'roll; Firmly rooted in Tradition, Past and Present. For us they are a reminder of what all good Rock music depends on: A link to the past – the Blues and the Soul. We just couldn't miss out on this one...

BONAFIDE, from Malmö, Sweden, is fronted by Pontus Snibb; a modern day blues man with years of experience playing with Jason & The Scorchers and Charlie Musselwhite among many others. He has also released a number of albums in his own name, mainly countryfied electric blues and Americana albums. His guitar playing and soulful voice has put him at the very forefront of the Scandinavian blues scene. Joining him is Mikael Fässberg (guitar), Micke Nilsson (bass) and Sticky Bomb (drums). BONAFIDE seem to be on a mission to save what's left of traditional, good old time rock. They play it with few yet effective notes, and prefer to keep it simple and true.
